The image shows two modern, brushed-bronze door handles. One handle is positioned diagonally across the upper left, and the other is positioned horizontally across the lower right. They are set against a background of a grid of 3D cubes, each rendered with a different perspective to create an optical illusion of depth. The handles have a sleek, curved design with a small logo on their vertical stems. The entire scene is presented on a white surface, possibly a book cover or a page, with a yellow spine visible at the bottom right.

olio su cartone / Charcoal, grease pencil, oil on cardboard, 181 x 121 cm.
